This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFACE.

The Long Island Historical Society, in Brooklyn, New York, has now been in existence thirty years, having been incorporated in the spring of A. D. 1863.

One of its principal aims has been from the first to collect a Library of valuable books, relating primarily to local and general civil or military history, but also including works in genealogy and biography, with those illustrating the progress of art, science, literature, the religious and social welfare of mankind, in whatever department this progress is to be traced. It has desired and sought to collect such a library for reference and consultation; containing volumes not commonly embraced in private or even in popular libraries, which yet students in the various branches of historical research naturally desire to have at hand. Many interesting and often important books of a more miscellaneous character have, however, been added to its collections, by the kindness of friends: and it has a very large number of pamphlets, files of newspapers, maps, etc., only the more important of which are indicated on the following pages. The many manuscripts, autograph letters, title-deeds, written records, and other similar documents in its possession, have not been recorded in this volume, but lists of such documents are to be found in the Library. A large number of important mediæval manuscripts, chiefly Missals and Books of Hours, which have recently come into its possession by a bequest of Mr. Samuel B. Duryea, will be recorded and described in a future appendix to this volume.

As rapidly as its means have permitted, the Society has carried out its original purpose; and the catalogue now printed contains a list of the more than forty-five thousand volumes already on its shelves, which are constantly being added to, and which are as constantly being gladly consulted by many students. In some departments the library will be found, even now, to have become exceptionally rich. Others will be carried toward completion as rapidly as needed funds are secured.

The present catalogue makes no attempt to classify books by their subjects, or to give an index to the contents of them, but simply to present a list of those now possessed by the Society. It is strictly a catalogue of books, not a dictionary of the subjects treated in books; and it assumes that those using it will know what authors they wish to consult, and on what subjects these have written. Each book has therefore commonly but one full title, under the name of its author. Almost the only exception to this rule occurs in biographical and genealogical works, where the full title is given under the name of the person or the family with whom the book is concerned, with a cross-reference to or from the author. Aside from this exception the rule above indicated has been closely followed.

For those using the catalogue it may be well to add, that books are entered under the full name of the author when this is known, under initials when only these appear, and under the pseudonym when the real name has not been ascertained; in the case of collections under the name of the editor, when this has been feasible; and under the first word, not an article or a preposition, when an anonymous work is recorded. In the more extensive biographical or geographical collections, the names of the persons or countries referred to have been used, or the name of the society or organization responsible for the publication.

In the headings of titles, authors' names are given in their vernacular form. Compound surnames, and names of noblemen, are entered under the name by which they are best known, usually with a cross-reference from the other name. French surnames preceded by Le, La, or L', are entered under L; those preceded by Du, or Des, under D; by de or d', under the name following. The De and the Van of English names are treated as a component part of the surname, as De Quincey, Van Buren. In other languages, the surnames are entered under the name following the prefix. German names having the diphthongs ä, ö, ü, are placed as spelled, without regard to the umlaut: Müller with Muller, Stöcklein before Stockmar, etc. Brackets enclose words added to the title page.

The catalogue has been several years in preparation, the work of making the extended lists of volumes having been performed by Miss Jessie Eloise Prentice, (now Mrs. Dodsworth), during the time of her most helpful connection with the Library. It will be found to have been done with the utmost care, and, the Directors believe, with an exact and elegant accuracy. It has been impossible for the compiler of the titles to correct the proof-sheets, except in small part; but, under the arrangements made for this important service, it is confidently hoped that few typographical errors will be found.

It needs only to be added that the necessary funds for printing this catalogue have been specially contributed by members of the Board of Directors, with assistance from generous members of the Society; and that no part of the general Fund of the Society has been applied to the work.

By order of the Directors,

RICHARD S. STORRS, President.

Note: There is not probably more than one, if indeed one, complete set of Congressional documents in existence. The earlier documents were not numbered consecutively, nor bound in volumes uniformly; it is therefore often difficult to tell with certainty to which house the Executive documents of the early sessions belong, and they sometimes contain papers of both houses; in all such cases they have been placed as seemed best. For a republication of all congressional papers of general interest prior to 1823, see "American State Papers."

Contributions to the history of Lake Bonneville.—Emmons, S. F. Abstract of report on geology and mining industry of Leadville, Colorado.—Becker, Geo. F. Summary of the geology of the Comstock Lode and the Washoe district.—King, Clarence. Production of the precious metals in the U. S. Gilbert, G. K. New method of measuring heights by means of the barometer.

3. Report of the director, with administrative reports.—Marsh, O. C. Birds with teeth.—Irving, Roland D. The copper-bearing rocks of Lake Superior.—Russell, Israel C. Sketch of the geological history of Lake Lahontan.—Hague, Arnold. Abstract of the report on the geology of the Eureka district, Nevada. —Chamberlin, Thos. C. Preliminary paper on the terminal moraine of the second glacial epoch.—White, C. A. Review of the non-marine fossil mollusca of N. America.

4. Report of the director, and administrative reports.—Dutton, C. E. Hawaiian volcanoes.—Curtis, Jos. S. Abstract of report on the mining geology of the Eureka district, Nevada.—Williams, Albert, Jr. Popular fallacies regarding the precious metal ore deposits. White, Chas. A. Review of the fossil ostreidæ of N. America.—Russell, Israel C. Geological reconnaissance in southern Oregon.

5. Report of the director, and administrative reports.—Gilbert, G. K. The topographic features of lake shores.—Chamberlin, Thos C. Requisite and qualifying conditions of artesian wells.—Irving, Roland D. Preliminary paper on an investigation of the Archæan formations of the northwestern states.—Marsh, O. C. Gigantic mammals of the order dinocerata.—Russell, Israel C. Existing glaciers of the U. S. Ward, Lester F. Sketch of paleobotany.

6. Report of the director, and administrative reports.—Dutton, Clarence E. Mt. Taylor and the Zuñi plateau.—Chamberlin, T. C., and Salisbury, R. D. Preliminary paper on the driftless area of the Upper Mississippi valley.—Curtis, Jos. Story. The quantitative determination of silver by means of the microscope.—Shaler, N. S. Sea coast swamps of the eastern U. S.—Ward, L. F. Synopsis of the flora of the Laramie group.

7. Report of the director, and administrative reports.—Chamberlin, T. C. Rock-scorings of the great ice invasions.—Iddings, Joseph P. Obsidian cliff, Yellowstone National Park.—Shaler, N. S. Report on the geology of Martha's Vineyard.—Irving, R. D. Classification of the early Cambrian and pre-Cambrian formations.—Davis, Wm. M. Structure of the Triassic formation of the Connecticut Valley.—Chatard, Thomas M. Salt-making processes in the U. S.—M'Gee, W. J. Geology of the head of Chesapeake Bay.

8. Report of the director, and administrative reports.—Russell, Israel C. Quarternary history of Mono Valley, California.—Diller, J. S. Geology of the Lassen Peak district.—Scudder, S. H. Fossil butterflies of Florissant—Orton, Ed. Trenton limestone as a source of petroleum and inflammable gas in Ohio and Indiana.—Ward, Lester F. Geog. distribution of fossil plants.—Becker, Geo. F. Summary of the geology of the quicksilver deposits of the Pacific slope.—Shaler, N. S. Geology of Mt. Desert Island, Me.

9. Report of the director, and administrative reports.—Dutton, C. E. The Charleston earthquake of Aug. 31, 1886.—Shaler, N. S. Geology of Cape Ann, Mass.—Weed, W. H. Formation of travertine and siliceous sinter by the vegetation of hot springs.—White, C. A. Geology and physiography of a portion of northwestern Colorado, and adjacent parts of Utah and Wyoming.

10. Report of the director, and administrative reports.—Shaler, N. S. General account of the freshwater morasses of the U. S., with description of the Dismal Swamp district of Virginia and N. Carolina.—Irving, R. D., and Van Hise, C. R. Penokee iron-bearing series of Michigan and Wisconsin.—Walcott, C. D. Fauna of the lower Cambrian or Olenellus zone. Pt. 2. Irrigation.

—— — — Bulletins. vols. 1–12. 12 vols. Wash., 1883–91. 8°.

Contents: 1. Cross, W. Hypersthene-andesite and triclinic pyroxene in augitic rocks; with a geological sketch of Buffalo Peaks, Colorado, by S. F. Emmons.—Williams, A., Jr. Gold and silver conversion tables.—Williams, Henry S. Fossil faunas of the Upper Devonian, along the the meridian of 76° 30′, from Tompkins Co., N. Y., to Bradford Co., Penn.—White, Chas. A. Mesozoic fossils.—Gannett, Henry. Dictionary of altitudes in the U. S.—Spencer, J. W. Elevations in the Dominion of Canada.

2. Marcou, Jules, and Belknap, John. Mapoteca geologica Americana; catalogue of geological maps of America.—Irving, R. D., and Van Hise, C. R. Secondary enlargements of mineral fragments in certain rocks.—Report of work done in the Washington Laboratory, 1883–84.—Walcott, Chas. D. Cambrian faunas of N. America; prelim. studies.—Call, R. Ellsworth. Quarternary and recent mollusca of the Great Basin, with descriptions of new forms; introduced by a sketch of the Quaternary lakes of the Great Basin, by G. K. Gilbert.—Dana, Edward S. Crystallographic study of the trinolite of Lake Lahontan.—Gannett, Henry. Boundaries of the U. S. and of the several states and territories.—Barus, Carl, and Strouhal, Vincent. Electrical and magnetic properties of the iron carburets.

3. White, Chas. A. Mesozoic and cenozoic palæontology of California.—Clarke, J. M. Higher Devonian faunas of Ontario Co., N. Y.—Hague, Arnold, and Iddings, J. P. Development of crystallization in the igneous rocks of Washoe.—White, Chas. A. Marine Eocene, fresh-water Miocene, and other fossil mollusca of western N. America.—Becker, Geo. F. Notes on the stratigraphy of California.—Cross, Whitman, and Hillebrand, W. F. Contrib. to the mineralogy of the Rocky Mts.—Willis, Bailey. Lignites of the Great Sioux Reservation.—White, Chas. A. New Cretaceous fossils from California.—Irving, R. D., and Chamberlin, T. C. Junction between the eastern sandstone and the Keweenaw series on Keweenaw Point.
